JAYCEES FIND TOWNFOLK ARE DIVIDED OVER LIGHT STYLES

More than 70 per cent of Gettysburg's residents are opposed to placing modern ornamental street lighting in the downtown section of the community, according to a survey made by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees presented borough council at its meeting Monday evening in the engine house with details of the survey the Jaycees conducted to determine the wishes of the community on the subject.

A total of 203 votes were cast by residents selected in accordance with "the best systems of determining the wishes of all of the people by a random sample of votes cast." The Jaycees enlisted the aid of Gettysburg College, the U. S. Department of Health Education and Welfare, the U. S. Census Bureau and the Bureau of Social Science Research of Washington in setting up its poll.

"EVENLY DIVIDED"

Of 203 ballots cast, 70, or 34 per cent, voted for early traditional lights, similar to the sample installed on the southwestern corner of Lincoln Square; 54, or 26 per cent, voted for present ornamental lights with brighter bulbs; 42, or 21 per cent, voted for modern ornamental lights similar to the sample installed on the northwestern quadrant of the square; 20, or ten per cent, voted for the present ornamental lights with no change; three, or two per cent, voted for a combination of systems and 14, or seven per cent, had no opinion.

After looking over the result, the Jaycees added two of the percentages which would place the largest percentage of voters in favor of retention of the present lighting system. By combining the 26 per cent who favored the present system with the 10 per cent

INVITATIONS FOR SCOTLAND PUPILS ASKED

American Legion members have been invited to entertain the Scotland School students in their homes during the Christmas holiday period, Commander Robert Fox reported Monday evening at a meeting of the Albert J. Lentz Post of the American Legion at its home on Baltimore St.

Fox said the Scotland School is hopeful of obtaining homes for many of its 524 children during the period from December 22 to January 1 in order to permit the youngsters to "have a better Christmas."

Because the Scotland School is in the 22nd District of the American Legion of which the local post is a member, the appeal is being made especially throughout the district.

280 MEMBERS

Families which wish to entertain one of the youngsters should contact either the superintendent of the school, Dr. Willard M. Stevens, or Assistant Superintendent Maurice Heckler. Arrangements are made through the school and the individual wishing to entertain the child, Fox said.

Reports were presented on the recent Veterans' Day parade and Veterans' Day program at the local high school. The Honor Guard reported providing military rites for funerals of the Ward Eason and James Neff.

Adjutant William T. Timmins Jr. reported December 31 as the last date to file for Pennsylvania's World War II bonus. The cut off date for direct loans by the Veterans Administration to veterans has been extended to July, 1962, Timmins said.

Reports showed membership in the post is now 280.

State To Replace Covered Bridge

The state Highways Department announced today it is advertising for bids to be opened December 29 for the replacement of the covered bridge over Conewago Creek between Straban and Tyrone Twp., three miles north of Hunterstown.

The 147-foot covered bridge is one of the more picturesque of the vanishing spans in this county. The bridge crosses the wide Conewago in two equal spans of about 73 feet each. There is a stone pier at midstream and one small opening in each bridge sidewalk over the middle of the creek.

BIG PUSH ON BATTLEFIELD FUNDS JAN. 8

A presidential proclamation on January 8 and the opening of a campaign for donations by a national publication the next day are expected to launch the fund raising efforts of the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association on a national scale, Marshall F. Allen, executive director of the association, told members of the Gettysburg Lions Club Monday evening at the VFW home.

Noting that "some 25 or 30 other fund raising drives for Civil War-connected projects will also be getting underway across the nation next month," Mr. Allen predicted that Gettysburg "should get priority over many of these others because Gettysburg is a symbol of the Civil War in the minds of many people."

He said the preservation association has purchased 166 acres of land to be donated to the National Park Service from the original list of 700 acres which the association hopes to acquire as the land and money become available.

55,000 DONATIONS

He said that approximately 55,000 persons already have contributed to the GBPA and "we consider this adequate sampling of public interest throughout the nation." Only land of historical significance that lies within the general confines of the battlefield is considered for purchase, he said.

The speaker reported the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce has adopted the cause of preservation of the battlefield here and is helping with radio publicity plans across the state and similar plans are being offered other states which have GBPA chapters or organizations. Television and a movie are to be

Mrs. Beard was a native of Freedom Twp. and was a daughter of the late John Edward and Sarah Rinehart Plank. She was a member of Mrs. Bowman's Sunday School Class. From 1906 to 1910, while her husband was steward at the Adams County Home, Mrs. Beard served as stewardess or matron there.

TOWN SCHOOL BD. ELECTS DEARDORFF

The Gettysburg borough school board conducted its last annual reorganization meeting under the present alignment of school districts in the Gettysburg Joint School System Monday evening by renaming Robert H. Deardorff president and Mrs. M. Hardy Nichols as vice president.

Next July 1 Gettysburg borough and Freedom Twp. will form a merged district as a result of the merger referendum at the November election.

Committee assignments for the year also were made.

NO APPOINTMENT

With no applicants for the board position made vacant November 15 by the resignation of Dr. Richard C. Newsham, the directors spent much of their meeting time discussing a possible replacement and then decided to hold a brief special meeting next Monday evening to fill the post. The appointee will serve the five-year unexpired term of Dr. Newsham.

Noting that the First Ward has only one representative on the school board now, Attorney Edward B. Bullett, while the Second Ward has three representatives and the Third Ward two members, most names proposed Monday evening were First Ward residents. Board members agreed, however, that "the street a man lives on may not be his most important qualification for membership on the board."

The board compiled a list of prospects and decided upon the order in which they will be contacted. If the board fails to fill the position by December 15, the new director then would have to be named by the court under the school code.

COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENTS

The most recent appointee on the local board is Mrs. Arthur Rice, W. Broadway, who was named late in the summer to succeed Douglas W. Smith, who resigned when he moved to Somerset, Pa.

Mrs. Rice was changed from the transportation to the property committee and the member yet to be named will be the board's representative on the transportation committee.

CLUB HEARS OF FEDERAL UNIT RESERVE

The work of the Federal Reserve System in keeping the national economy "sound and progressing" was outlined Monday evening by D. Russell Connor, federal representative of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, to the Rotary Club at its dinner meeting in the YWCA.

The Federal Reserve System, established by Senator Carter Glass and President Wilson in 1914 "because of some serious financial difficulties experienced by the nation prior to 1913, has changed and grown through the years in carrying out its objectives to keep the nation's economy on an even keel," Connor said.

The 12 districts into which the Federal Reserve system is divided "originally were thought of as almost autonomous," but later it has been found that the nation's economy is closely bound together and the 12 districts usually work close together although each district can and does operate individually within its own area to meet local problems.

HAS 6,100 MEMBERS

A total of 6,100 banks throughout the United States are members of the Federal Reserve. All national banks must be members. State banks may be members. The Federal Reserve is both a privately owned establishment and a federal agency. Its bank members own stock in it and receive dividends. The Reserve has always made its own profits and has cost the government nothing for operation. Each year 94 per cent of its profits are turned back to the Treasury.

The seven members of its Board of Governors are appointed for 14-year terms by the President of the United States with approval of the Senate. A new director is appointed each two years. "This way the Federal Reserve is set up to avoid political influence."

HAS MUCH POWER

Ten per cent of the currency in circulation is put out by the U. S. Treasury Department. Nine per cent of the currency is the obligation of the Federal Reserve. As a result one of the functions of the Federal Reserve is to manipulate the flow of currency to meet the economic needs of the nation. "Our job is to prevent booms from booming into

The pavilion will be formally presented to the Gettysburg Recreation Association during the dedication ceremony.

Pressed for comment on the lengthy conference with Eisenhower and Cabinet members, Kennedy said the meeting had been cordial.

MEET SECRETARIES

The two principals conferred for one hour and 52 minutes alone in Eisenhower's office. After a brief break in which photographers made pictures of the historic meeting, the President and the senator went to the Cabinet room and talked about an hour and a half with the secretaries of defense, state and treasury and their liaisons.

Kennedy, who had been greeted on his arrival at the White House at 9 a.m. with a display of uniformed servicemen who presented arms, and the Marine Band, left the White House accompanied

When Mr. Shields arrived at the Young home a short time later, he found Mr. Young dead. The time of death was placed at 10:55 o'clock.

During his years of retirement here, Mr. Young took an active part in the activities of the Adams County Historical Society, serving as a member of its board of directors for a number of years and as chairman of its Historical Sites Committee. It was largely through his efforts that a number of the state historical markers in this county were erected.

Two expense accounts in connection with the successful campaign of George A. Goodling, Loganville, for Congress were filed today with the Adams County election board.

Goodling's personal account showed income of $1,500 received from the National Republican Congressional Committee. His expenditures totaled $2,432.52 of which $1,000 was given to the Cumberland County Republican party, $300 to the York County Republican party and $220 to Adams County's Republican Committee. ROUTINE WORK IS CONDUCTED BY TOWN HEADS

Councilman Mahlon P. Hartzell reported at a meeting of borough council Monday evening in the council chambers at the engine house that the highway committee is conferring with the state relative to proposed traffic lights at the intersection of Washington St. and Steinwehr Ave. He said he would report at the next meeting.

Hartzell also voiced opposition to closing W. Broadway to truck traffic with the statement "if our streets won't carry the trucks then we ought to fix our streets."

The safety committee was asked to study a proposal that parking be banned on one side of E. Middle St. from Stratton to "the end of E. Middle." So far at least five "sideswiping" accidents have occurred as a result of school bus use of the street on which cars now park on both sides, it was reported.

Council voted a donation of $175 to the Warner Hospital, the salary of one of the councilmen who declines to accept his council salary.

Councilwoman Mrs. James Schwenk reported on the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce to secure new industry for the town. The bid of Kootz Equipment Company to sell the borough police tickets for $18.50 per thousand was approved.

Attorney Thrush said another Civil Service examination for police officer will be held.

Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner was directed to secure estimates on a front end loader for street work and submit for possible inclusion in the 1961 budget.

The four-wheel drive of the truck used as a snow plow by the borough will be repaired at a cost of $250.

Winebrenner reported installation of all signs and completion of all street work and the start of plans to repaint sign standards and "signs as needed."

M'DERMOTT TO LAY CONCRETE ALONG TIBER

McDermitt Inc. Monday evening was awarded a contract by borough council at a meeting in the engine house to lay 5,000 square feet of concrete on the bottom of the Tiber beginning at the bridge from Water St. and continuing west for $2,925. DELAY PARKING REPORTS

Councilman George Naugle told council he expects to report next month on whether the present one-hour parking limit on the meters in the first blocks off Lincoln Square may be extended to two hours. Radio Group To Buy Transceiver

The Adams County Amateur Radio Society, meeting Monday evening at the Lane Studio, voted to purchase a Heath HW-29-A six-meter transceiver to be used for Civil Defense work.

The members will man the transceiver for use by the county Civil Defense organization in contacting neighboring counties and the state Civil Defense headquarters at Selingsgrove. The portable equipment can be moved anywhere in the county by car or other vehicle.

Garry Fasick, York Springs, secretary of the club, said the members voted to "rent" the transceiver to themselves individually at a cost of 50 cents per week. This will raise funds for purchase of more of the transceivers for use by the county and will also keep the members in constant practice in the use of the equipment.

A delegation from the local radio club will assist Wednesday evening at the engine house in the Civil Defense test being conducted at that time.

The Huntingburg Furniture Company, of Huntingburg, Ind., has purchased the real estate of the Gettysburg Panel Company, the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce announced today.

Julian N. Estep, president of the Chamber, said the sale was consummated at 11:30 o'clock Monday night at a meeting of representatives of the Gettysburg Furniture Companies and the Huntingburg Furniture Company in the offices of the local furniture company on York St.

Estep said the Industrial Development committee of the local Chamber of Commerce, headed by J. Howard Gaines, made its first contact with R. H. McMurtrie, president of the Huntingburg Furniture Company and vice president of the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers, on November 1.

Additional contacts were made with the assistance of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce followed by further conferences to interest the Indiana company in expanding its interests to Gettysburg. Two representatives of the local Chamber flew to Indiana to confer for two days with company officials.

John Stimpson, vice president of the Indiana company, and two members of his staff flew here Monday and with Chamber of Commerce officials conferred Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock with Sydney Rose and other officials of the Gettysburg Furniture Companies. Three hours later, Estep said, the sale of the panel company real estate was announced. The purchased price was not revealed.

BOROUGH'S FINANCIAL STATUS GOOD

Gettysburg borough council Monday evening at its meeting in the engine house transferred funds to various departments so its budgets will finish the year "in the black." The town should end the year with about $86,000 on hand.

Borough Treasurer Harry D. Ridinger said the budget for general government is $599.37 "in the red," the budget for protection to persons and property has exceeded its amount by $429.67 and the highway budget is $266.

who favored the present system with increased wattage, the Jaycees found that 73 voters, 36 per cent, favored retention of the present system with slight modification.

In their report to council, Robert Weiland, Donald Becker and John Baschore, the survey committee, noted: "The rankings indicate public opinion about evenly divided on the two favorite choices. Both have the backing of about one-third of the respondents. Modern ornamental lighting is the preference of just over one-fifth of the respondents. It ranks lowest in popularity and the difference would appear to be significant."

5 PAGES OF COMMENT

Accompanying the report were five pages filled with the comments made by the persons who filled out the questionnaires. The comments indicated diverse opinions on whether there is sufficient light in the center of the town—and a great number of comments that more light is needed in other sections of the community. One comment which was phrased in various ways was: "Need lights on back streets more than on Square." A large number held that an improvement would be to paint the present White Way standards black. Many comments noted: "Our taxes are high enough now."

Council turned the report over to its light committee headed by Councilman Philip M. Jones for its study before the committee makes final recommendations on the lighting system.

Inflation and at the other end cut off the bottom of recessions so that the economy will proceed at a more level pace than alternating boom and bust."

Connor said the Federal Reserve has "tremendous powers" to meet the economic needs. By increasing the amount of cash its member banks must have with the Reserve by one per cent it can remove one billion dollars from the economy. And by selling or buying government securities it can remove additional billions of dollars—or add them to the currency "almost overnight."

DISCOURAGE INFLATION

The powers of The Federal Reserve work more quickly to discourage inflation than they do to end deflation, Connor said. "We can pull currency out quick and sit on it and thus stop inflation. But when we make money available we can't force people to borrow it and use it. Thus our efforts to halt a recession are necessarily slower than the efforts to halt inflation."

Changing of the interest rates is also a function of the Reserve to stabilize the economy. It sets the margin for buying stocks and also acts as the banker for the banks throughout the nation.

Commenting on the flight of gold from the nation, Connor said the problem was a political one because "we could stop it immediately but the political consequences throughout the world would be disastrous, and so you have to go slowly." Connor was introduced by Paul B. Fox, vice president of the First National Bank of Gettysburg. Fifty attended the meeting at which President William Lentz presided. David Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Johnson, Broadway, was introduced as a student member of Rotary for the month.

Family Is Made Homeless By Fire

Three members of a family were made homeless when fire damaged the interior of their dwelling near the Sheppard-Myers Impounding Dam, about four miles southwest of Hanover, Monday night at 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rickrode and 10-year-old son, Clark, were given shelter at the home of neighbors. Mr. and Mrs. Burnell Shaffer, Mrs. Rickrode was given oxygen at the scene for smoke inhalation.

Pleasant Hill Fire Chief Robert Yingling said the blaze was confined to a built-in electric range in the kitchen, but the entire six-room home was filled with smoke and heavy black soot. No estimate of the damage was available last night.

Mrs. Rickrode told firemen she was away from home about one and a half hours while she escorted her son to Hanover for a music lesson.

Upon her return home, Mrs. Rickrode said she discovered the house filled with smoke and ran to the home of a neighbor, Irvin Wilson, to call firemen.

try faces after Kennedy takes office Jan. 20.

Kennedy said Eisenhower volunteered to have another meeting if Kennedy wants it. "I may very well do it," Kennedy said.

The band struck up, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," as Kennedy left the White House grounds.

There were cheers from hundreds of spectators as a cream-colored sedan carrying the 43-year-old Democratic president-elect rolled through the White House gate promptly at 9 a.m.

On the north portico of the executive mansion, the 70-year-old Republican President was waiting to greet the man who will take over his duties Jan. 20.

Eisenhower stood beaming. As Kennedy walked up the steps Eisenhower told him, "I'd have come down there but the photographers wouldn't let me do it."

Eisenhower wore a brown suit and matching hat. Kennedy, in a blue-striped suit, was hatless.

Eisenhower and Kennedy shook hands twice—the second time for the benefit of photographers, and Kennedy told the President: "It's good to be here."

A Marine Corps band played the "Stars and Stripes Forever" as the senator's car entered the grounds.

ASKS COURT TO TAKE LICENSE OF DETECTIVE

York County District Attorney Frank B. Boyle Monday asked the court to revoke the license of Private Detective Clair L. Bollinger York, charging him with five specific violations of the State Detective's Act.

Judge George W. Atkins issued a rule on Boyle's petition for Bollinger to show cause by 1:30 p.m. Monday, December 19, as to why his license should not be revoked. Bollinger faces several criminal charges as the result of the district attorney's investigation of collection agency activities. He has been a licensed detective since 1956.

HAS OFFICE HERE

Bollinger operates a detective agency office at 48 York St. Boyle charges Bollinger with the following violations:

1. Loaning or permitting his badge and pocket card to be used by Eugene Herman, now a prison guard, to bring about the arrest of a man in August of 1959 in Columbia.

2. Employing Donald Herman and Ray Grogg as agents without requiring them to furnish the detective with a verified statement and fingerprints and without filing any statement with the court on their employment. Bollinger lists only these four agents: Lessinger, 1615 W. Philadelphia St., York; Stanley G. Witmer, 845 N. Clinton St., York; Harold G. Hoffmaster, Hellam, and Denes Chilton, 153 S. Newberry St., York.

LICENSED RENEWED

3. Paying Herman and Grogg for services in five adultery cases.

4. Issuing badges to Herman and Grogg without properly employing them.

5. Utilizing forms and letters bearing the insignia of his private detective's office for collection of claims through his collection agency and for use in his office as constable.

Bollinger has had his license renewed by the court twice since 1956. He is required by law to provide the names of all the agents or employees. He formerly operated an office in Spring Grove.

Bollinger's two-year license would not expire until June, 1962.

SAFETY AT XMAS

Richard Stuller, fire chief of Alpha Fire Company No. 1, calls attention to the following Christmas safety suggestions: Select a freshly cut tree; keep out-of-doors until just before Christmas and keep it standing in water after taking it inside; place tree in coolest part of the room; use fireproof decorations; set-up electric train away from tree; use only electric lights on tree, never candles, and check for frayed wire; put away all gift wrappings immediately; turn off lights when leaving house; inspect tree from time to time and if dry, take down and discard; under any conditions dismantle the day after New Year's.

Other precautions to be taken are to use with care smoking; have plenty of ashtrays empty frequently; make fire prevention a family affair at home and an employer-employee job at the store during the shopping season; be sure your baby sitter knows the rules of fire safety; buy only toys that are safe. Remember, that every 46 minutes during 1959, fire claimed a life in the United States. Total deaths from fire during the Christmas and New Year weekend during the past ten years, ranged anywhere from a low of 47 in 1947 to a high 180 in 1951. "Be Careful" should be the holiday watchword.

SWEETEN SUBWAY

PARIS (AP)—Despite massive doses of perfume, most Paris subway stations still smell like a football team's locker room at half-time.

City officials, fearing shoppers were using other transportation because of the odor, tried wafting perfume through miles of underground tubes.

That didn't help, so this week four subway lines are spraying the odor of violets along the tracks while another is trying to make passengers believe they are sniffing the refreshing odor of a pine forest.

The nominating committee for Sunday School officers and teachers at Redeemer's United Church of Christ will report this Sunday during the church school hour at 9:15 a.m. and election will take place the following Sunday, December 18.

BOWLING SCHEDULE

The Littlestown Men's Bowling League will bowl position rounds next Wednesday, December 14, at Banker's Recreation Center, N. Queen St. The following schedule will be in effect: 7 p.m., Five and Ten versus Crouse's Cranes; Dutterer's Restaurant vs. Eddie's Cleaners; VFW vs. Stone-siders; at 9 p.m., Eagles vs. Renner's; Boydie's vs. Mystic Chain and Foundry vs. Keystone. These rounds will determine the final standings of the teams in the first half of the 1960-61 season. If the teams do not roll on that night, they may roll any night up to January 4 and they should contact the secretary, Earl A. Rebert, when they plan to bowl.

A singles tournament will be held on Wednesday, December 21.

Postpone Ladies' Night Activities

The ladies' night activities, sponsored by the Recreation Association, have been postponed until Wednesday evening, January 4, it was announced today by Lee Raffensperger, recreation director. The postponement was decided upon due to heavy pre-holiday season schedules for many local women.

Starting on that date activities will be held each Wednesday evening from 7 to 9:30 o'clock in the boys' gymnasium at Gettysburg High School. The programs will include volleyball, basketball and badminton as well as other sports.

TOWN SCHOOL

Other committee assignments on the borough board remained unchanged. They include: President Deardorff and Mr. Bulleit, joint school committee, Robert Weaver, finance and planning committee; Mrs. Nichols, teacher and curriculum; Orville B. Orner, supply, and President Deardorff on the discipline committee which is made up of the presidents of all of the member boards.

KEEP MONEY AT WORK

President Deardorff presided at Monday's meeting with all six directors in attendance. The report of the First National Bank as treasurer showed $53,830 received in state appropriation, $927 from real estate transfer tax, $150 in interest and $157 in federal aid. Chief expenditures in the last month were $35,000 to the joint school district and $31,000 to the school authority in rentals, leaving a month-end balance of $144,874.

Superintendent H. Edgar Riegler told the directors that since the treasurer's report was prepared $23,000 has been received in taxes and $35,000 has been paid to the joint district for December. He also reported that in line with board action last month, he renewed a $20,000 certificate of deposit for six months and placed four $10,000 certificates of deposit for three-month periods so that school funds will be earning interest until they are needed next spring.

The meeting was held in the office of the superintendent of schools, Mr. Riegler.

20 Uninjured As Landing Plane Skids

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Twenty persons escaped injury Monday when an Allegheny Airlines plane skidded during a landing at the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre Airport. The accident was caused by a collapsed landing gear.

The plane, carrying 17 passengers and a three-man crew, was enroute from Newark, N. J., to Detroit, Mich., via Bradford and Erie, Pa.

Ten of the passengers got off at Scranton. The rest flew on to Williamsport on another plane, then transferred to still another aircraft which took them to their destination.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times
FIFTY YEARS AGO

Will Protect Horses Here: Felix H. Foller, local agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, is preparing to wage active warfare against those who maltreat or do not care properly for their horses.

On Monday evening he took in charge a horse belonging to Livyman Slagle, of Emmitsburg, which had been driven here by George Tonsil, a colored resident of that place. Mr. Foller says that the horse was over-driven and then allowed to stand in the cold. He would not allow the man to take it back to Emmitsburg but took the animal in charge and, after an hour's work, in part relieved its condition.

Death Of Former Bank President: Dr. John Augustus Swope died this morning at his home in Washington, D. C., after an illness of long duration, aged 82 years, 11 months and 11 days.

Dr. Swope was a native of Gettysburg, prominently identified with local interests and possessed a wide circle of friends and admirers in the community.

$42,000 For Local Hotel: Robert H. Gilmore, of Carlisle, has sold the Hotel Gettysburg property to J. A. Ring, of Carlisle, for the sum of $42,000.

The property sale which comprises one of the largest real estate deals which has been consummated in Gettysburg for a number of years includes, in addition to the hotel, all the ground and buildings in the rear of the hotel to the Western Maryland Railway property. This takes in the Holtzworth and Hoffman stables, the buildings occupied by the Lackner restaurant and the Hummer cigar store, all the ground back to the railroad property and takes in what is one of the largest and best business corners in Gettysburg. Mr. Gilmore has owned the property for a number of years.

Old-fashioned Weather: With little less than a foot of snow, swirling winds lively drifts and the sound of sleighbells Gettysburg and Adams County are having their first real touch of the Winter of 1910-11 and from present indications it is to be the old-fashioned variety.

For many hours the flakes have been falling steadily until a heavy white mantle covers everything and the world appears in its usual beautiful winter garb.

Congress Is Under Way: Washington: Although the last session of the sixty-first congress got under way yesterday, the first important business took place today, when President Taft's message was read in both houses. The message was very lengthy and consumed several hours in being read. Great interest was manifested in the house and senate, the galleries of which were crowded. The opening session of congress was brief. The usual committees were appointed to wait upon each other with the announcement that everything was ready for business and a joint committee was named to call upon the president and inform him that congress was ready to receive any communications that he might care to transmit to him.

Association To Meet On Friday: The next meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the High School building on Friday evening. The charter members of the organization wish it understood that the business meeting is open to all, whether or not members, and that they are invited and urged to attend these sessions as well as the entertainment part of the program.

Today's Talk

DOING AND UNDOING

Only as we are plastic in the hands of intelligence are we able to be anything.

The story of the city and the nation is one of building and tearing down. And this is the same process through which we all go from day to day. Our thoughts conceive and our hands fashion. You alone know what manner of man or woman you are. The builder alone is able to see through his own building.

In trying to do, we so often undo.

It's because we are not super-beings at all, but just human beings made of clay right out of the heart of Mother Nature.

And so as expert stumblers we are very good!

We do something fine that gives a thrill to the soul—and then we do something that chills it all and often undoes what we hoped would remain as a part of our best—maybe forever.

But as "hope springs eternal in the human breast," so does aspiration dry and wipe up the stains of our undoings and teach us to do better things—things which represent us as we are to our guiding angels.

"Our moods," says Emerson, "do not believe in each other." Nor do our undoings—so voluntary at the time—seem at all related to the worthy deeds we do.

Tick-tock, tick-tock — as the pendulum releases its all-day talk, so do we—and undo—

To DO all over again!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Rex Beach Memorial"

Just Folks

THE LESSER ROLE

Just play the part in which you're cast

With all the skill you possess,
Be firm and faithful to the last,
This must in time bring you success.

Though humble now your part may be,

Despise it not because it's small,
Some watchful eye is sure to see
If into it you put your all.To greater roles you must ascend
If in the lesser you are great;
Success is certain in the end
For those who bravely work and wait.

Mock CD Test In State Tomorrow

HARRISBURG (AP)—There will be no public participation in a Civil Defense test Wednesday marking the 19th anniversary of Pearl Harbor, the State Council of Civil Defense says.

"No sirens will sound and the public will not be required to participate in Wednesday's test," said Dr. Richard Gerstell, state CD director.

He said county and local CD directors will meet during the day to work out solutions to problems arising from a theoretical nuclear attack.

The problem will assume that the cities of Erie, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, the atomic generating station at Shippingport, Beaver County, and the Olmsted Air Force Base at Middletown will be hit by hydrogen bombs.

The simulated bombings theoretically will kill over 2½ million persons, injure another 1,175,000 and leave 1,125,000 homeless.

State Living Cost Is Below Average

HARRISBURG (AP)—The cost of living in Pennsylvania is slightly below the national average, the State Labor and Industry Department reported Monday.

The price index of all consumer goods and service in Pennsylvania from July through October rose by four-tenths per cent compared with six-tenths per cent nationally.

This rise brought the state's cost-of-living index to a record high of 126.8 of the 1947-49 base of 100, the department said. The national index rose in the same period to 127.3.

NETWORKS ARE STILL FULL OF TV VIOLENCE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Well over a year ago, when the TV quiz show scandals burst a dam through which all sorts of criticism flooded in on the networks, top executives were promising all sorts of reforms.

Not only were they going to clean up such unsavory messes as rigged shows, free plugs and payola, but they were going to tackle the matter of TV violence and brutality.

I recall the thinking of one newly appointed vice president in charge of cleanup about his future activities.

EXCESSES CUT

"Of course, there has to be a certain amount of action," he said. "But I'm going to see to it that the excesses are cut out. No more of these prolonged fist fights, when one or two punches would move the story forward. No more gun battles, with a victim pumped full of bullets when one shot would do the trick."

Well, that was 14 months or so back. I figured that, with most of the filmed action shows made in advance, it would undoubtedly take a few months for the new anti-violence policies to manifest themselves.

But here we are, half through another season of television. The broadcasting companies are now boasting about how tirelessly and faithfully they are serving the public weal with their public affairs, informational shows and—noisier bragging—those four joint appearances by the presidential candidates. But they still are dishing up the same old portions of sadistic battles—long, vicious fights, gun battles, and often grisly glimpses of the dead and dying.

This continued dedication to gory mayhem and graphic pictures of crime recently led FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover to condemn the steady diet and to relate it to the alarming national crime rate.

The Federal Communications Commission reports it is getting around 100 letters a month complaining about crime and violence in broadcast programs—not a very large number. Most unhappy viewers write their complaints to the station or network airing an objectionable program.

Truman's Marshall Plan was little different from Roosevelt's lend-lease. It was a lavish program of credits, grants in aid and outright gifts to allies, former enemies and underdeveloped nations. This program, under one name or another, has continued until this day, and is still in progress.

THE DRAIN on American gold reserves of this unprecedented generosity by the American people, to former enemies such as Japan and Germany, as well as to former allies, began creating a rising concern two or three years ago. The uncertainties of an American election year undoubtedly accelerated it.

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson naturally felt it his duty to do something about it. At last he found a sympathetic ear in the White House. The President's immediate action was to order the reduction of dependents of American service men abroad from 484,000 to 200,000. Moreover, the departments of the armed services were told to favor the American market in future purchases of food, clothing and post exchange supplies.

This this as a public caution to all concerned that America could and would do something toward protecting her own money value, Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson and Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon took off for West Germany.

It was a good place to start. No people had less reason to expect such generosity as they had received from their American visitors. No nation in Europe had flourished more happily under American post war policies.

Anderson and Dillon were far more successful in their mission than the critical headlines suggest. And West Germany is more cooperative than the failure of a complete agreement indicated.

Let's Look At The Record

GOLD DIPLOMACY

Treasury Boss Is Current Whipping Boy
But Criticisms Are Petty And SuperficialBy JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.,
President, Wisconsin State
College, Superior

THE OUTGOING Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson appears to be cast in the role of public whipping boy for an outgoing administration. This is not unusual. Some cabinet officer normally rates that status; and the nation is tired of hearing adverse comments about Mr. Benson and the Department of Agriculture.

Actually, Mr. Anderson appears to have done a good job. He just happened to be the man in the key position when the tide of international exchange turned as was inevitable, sooner or later.

Eventually international trade balances have to be squared up with claim checks on a commodity to accept international value. To date, no one has found a satisfactory substitute for gold. Moreover, it inevitably happens that holders of claim checks on gold can and do demand delivery, not only in trade credits but in gold itself. It thus follows that gold is the final stabilizing commodity back of the monies of all peoples who engage in much foreign trade.

Since American dollars are backed by gold, and when spent abroad represent just such claim checks, it behooves the Federal Government to protect the value of mine and your dollars, at home and abroad, by curtailing the outflow of this stabilizing commodity of value—gold.

The American economy, and ultimately against America's gold reserves, began with President Franklin D. Roosevelt's lavish program of lend-lease prior to America's being bombed into World War II by the Jap raid on Pearl Harbor, 1941. It continued at an increased rate throughout the four remaining years of warfare. Came peace and President Truman tried to cut off our allies like ripe bananas by ending lend-lease. He and his advisers decided it was not practical if a satisfactory peace was to be underwritten.

Truman's Marshall Plan was little different from Roosevelt's lend-lease. It was a lavish program of credits, grants in aid and outright gifts to allies, former enemies and underdeveloped nations. This program, under one name or another, has continued until this day, and is still in progress.

THE DRAIN on American gold reserves of this unprecedented generosity by the American people, to former enemies such as Japan and Germany, as well as to former allies, began creating a rising concern two or three years ago. The uncertainties of an American election year undoubtedly accelerated it.

cates. The two Americans could have come home with the equivalent of a billion dollars worth of immediate easement in the situation.

West Germany readily agreed to advance payments on her outstanding debt to America to the amount of six hundred million dollars, plus payment now for all military equipment to be ordered and delivered throughout 1964, and use of marks, instead of dollars, to the amount of a quarter of a billion dollars for future loans by the International Monetary Fund.

Rumors suggest that diplomat Dillon would have settled for this, but Mr. Anderson gave it a flat rejection. He argues that such an agreement could be no more than a shot in the arm that in the end would do more harm than good. He is calling for a restudy and revision of the basic principles and procedures.

MUCH OF THE CRITICISM

of Treasury Secretary Anderson has been superficial and petty. The State Department clique of career diplomats naturally resents the head of another governmental department being vested with a major foreign negotiation. To them, Anderson is a poacher on their private preserve. Their remarks have been far from flattering.

The Army, Navy and Air Force are hardly happy about their dependents and other curtailments. Friends of the incoming administration haughtily intimate Anderson could have waited for the new regime to settle these important matters. They infer he was presumptuous.

In truth, Mr. Anderson has made the job easier for the next administration. He has given America's increasingly rich partners in the cause for world peace a jolt concerning their responsibilities which they should long remember. The basic problem, however, still belongs to the new administration.

Ask Commissioners To Help Contribute

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Highways Department Monday asked commissioners of York and Cumberland counties to contribute toward damage expected as a result of highways projects in both counties.

The department said the property damage in York County is estimated at $34,150 for a project between Bowmansdale and Sidonsburg, including a bridge over Yellow Breeches Creek.

The Cumberland County project includes a bridge over the Yellow Breeches in Upper Allen Twp. and property damages are estimated at $2,800.

Says Death Not Hunting Accident

BOYERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—State police are investigating the death of Milan K. Spatz, 49, of nearby Manatwamy, who at first was believed to have been shot accidentally while hunting.

But Monday Dr. George P. Desjardins, a pathologist at St. Joseph's Hospital in Reading, reported the victim couldn't possibly have shot himself twice in the face. State police ruled temporarily that the death was not accidental.

Spatz was found Saturday about a mile from his home.

The first president to proclaim a nationwide Thanksgiving was George Washington. That was in 1789 when he set aside the last Thursday in November for the celebration.

WILL PROPOSE PAY RAISES FOR 13,000 IN PA.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence said today he will propose a pay increase for some 13,000 state employees at the Dec. 14 meeting of the State Executive Board.

The governor gave no estimate of the cost of the proposed increases but said they could be made without creating appropriation deficiencies in departmental operations.

Since May 27, 1959, he said, the administration has revised the pay ranges for 346 classes of employees. He said the pay raise proposal would revise the maximum and minimum salaries for the remaining classes.

If approved by the board, Lawrence said, immediate salary increases will be granted to those employees whose present salaries are below the minimum rates of the new pay ranges.

"In addition," he said, "employees in such classes whose salaries have been at the maximum of their pay ranges for a year or more will become eligible for meritorious salary increases."

The governor said the pay range adjustment he is contemplating are based on studies of prevailing salary scales in private industry and in other public jurisdictions.

"This program I look at as phase one of an over-all plan which would provide for general pay increases for all employees. Unfortunately our financial situation would not permit us to grant such increases during the current biennium," he said, adding:

"I am, however, planning to ask in our budget requests to the Legislature for the next fiscal year 1961-62, the funds to permit us to grant a general salary increase to those employees who have not benefited by previous similar adjustments."

"If the Legislature will grant us those mounts, we propose, beginning June 1, 1961, to provide an additional increment, which would be equivalent to about 5 per cent to employees who would normally receive only one regular increment on their anniversary date."

Baugh's Protege Is Top Pass Completer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sammy Baugh, possibly the greatest passer in football history, left Hardin-Simmons this season to coach the pros. But a protege, Harold Stephens, remained behind and brought the Texas school its second individual major college passing championship in four years.

Final National Collegiate Athletic Bureau statistics today showed Stephens completed 145 of 256 passes in becoming the first member of an all-losing team ever to win an individual offense title.

Stephens completed 22 more than runnerup Norman Snead of Wake Forest, who went 123 for 259.

In 1957, under Baugh, Ken Ford won the passing title at Hardin-Simmons, with 22 completions in his final game.

Snead hit on 66 passes in his last four games for 847 yards and the over-all yardage crown with 1,676.

MRS. FLORA LEISTER

TANEYTOWN — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hiltbrich, R. 2, and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Dodder, of Littlestown, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dodder, York.

The Mite Society of Trinity Lutheran Church will meet on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The United Lutheran Church men will meet at the same time in Room Four for a business meeting and election of officers.

TELL FIREMEN HOW PA. MONEY MAY BE USED

HARRISBURG (AP) — State money paid to volunteer fire companies can only be used for death, pension or disability benefits to members of their relief associations, says the Auditor General's Department in a review of the laws covering use of these funds.

The department said Monday all expenditures made by the firemen's Relief Association must be for the benefit of active firemen.

The Fire Insurance Tax Fund makes payments to the various fire companies from proceeds of the 2 per cent tax on premiums written in Pennsylvania by out-of-state fire insurance companies.

MUST BE SEPARATE

"The associations can do most anything they want to on their own—as long as they keep it separate from the state money," said Deputy Aud. Gen. Martin Brackbill.

Because there are so many volunteer fire companies in the state, he said, the fund was primarily set up to protect firemen and their families in case of death or injury in fighting fires.

Brackbill said if the legislature wants the associations to be able to use the money for other purposes, it will have to change the law.

According to the department's regulations, the relief associations may establish pension plans for paid firemen but cannot set up a pension plan for volunteer firemen.

Brackbill said some companies have built up surpluses but many do not have big accounts.

FORD FRICK TO DECIDE ON AL EXPANSION

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick has called upon to make baseball's most important decision since the warring American and National leagues signed a peace pact in 1903.

Frick alone must decide whether the American League goes into Los Angeles next year in defiance of the National League and Walter O'Malley, owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The American League, thwarted by the National in its efforts to include Los Angeles in an expansion program for 1961, put the issue up to Frick Monday night.

UP TO HIM
"We insist on moving to Los Angeles in 1961," American League President Joe Cronin told the commissioner. "Now it's up to you."

The American League hurled the challenge after the National League rejected its proposal to engage in interleague play in 1961, with each league expanding to nine teams.

"The National League has advised us that nine-team interleague play was not possible in 1961 because Houston isn't ready," said Cronin. "Our committee has informed the National League we will waive Rule 1 which calls for unanimous consent of all 16 clubs and permit it to move into New York in 1961."

ADOPT AMENDMENT
"If this proposal is not accepted, the American League has no alternative but to adopt its amendment of Rule 1 to place a team in Los Angeles next year."

Assuming the National League stands firm and rejects the American League's latest proposal, Frick must decide between the two leagues. The National has said it is willing to allow the American to open shop in Los Angeles but not before 1962.

"I will not be hustled into a quick decision," Frick said, "I will take my time and announce my decision at the joint meeting Wednesday. And I assure you I'll do what's best for baseball."

"I consider the American League proposal to be one of several alternatives."

The other alternatives were the nine-team proposal; reverting to eight clubs; and the National League's amendment to permit the AL to move into Los Angeles in 1962.

WARMATH AND GOPHERS REVEL IN NEW REWARD

By JIM KLOBUCHAR
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota and Murray Warmath, a team and coach who marched shoulder-to-shoulder from oblivion to football's summit, revealed today in new rewards.

For battling from last place in the Big Ten to the national title, and from the scaffold to national celebrity, the Gophers and Warmath were named comeback team and coach of the year by The Associated Press.

For Warmath the honor was the prize of a nifty game of passive resistance. For three losing years, amid mounting clamor for his silence and dignity—and a private vow that he would come back.

NO LESS DRAMATIC
His personal victory was no less dramatic than that of his team, basically the same one which won only two games in nine last year, and whose 1958 forerunner finished 1-8.

If 1960 was the season of atonement for Minnesota it also was a year of one crisis piled on another.

"We knew we had to beat Nebraska in our opener and we were desperate about it," said Warmath. "We had to get off winning after all that trouble of the two previous years."

SAKE OF MORALE
And then it was Indiana that had to be beaten "for the sake of the team's morale," then Northwestern, and "by the time we beat Illinois everybody on the team knew we were first rate."

"They were even higher against Iowa, stumbled for their only loss against Purdue and finished with a great fourth period to beat Wisconsin."

Minnesota finished as the Big Ten co-champion on raw power, with a cautious style on offense that reduced the chances of error, and with a missionary spirit.

Upholds Court On Dentist Ruling

HARRISBURG (AP)—Dauphin County Court has ruled that the state acted properly in denying a charter to a group of dentists trying to set up a Blue Cross type plan for paying big dental bills.

The court handed down a 19-page opinion, written by Judge Carl B. Shelley, Monday. It dismissed an appeal by the dentists' group whose application for articles of incorporation was denied by insurance Commissioner Francis R. Smith earlier this year.

The group had proposed to pattern its plan after the hospitalization program of Blue Cross. It would have operated as a "group plan" with labor unions, employer and large companies entering contracts with dentists for prepaid services.

"It would not offer any protection to the subscribers," Shelley ruled.

JOE WALCOTT SURPRISED AT BOXING NEWS

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—"This is really a shock. I can't believe it. I think it's a false statement."

This was the reaction early today from Jersey Joe Walcott when he was told it was implied in Senate testimony that Frankie Carbo, alleged underworld boxing czar, dictated terms for his 1952 rematch with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

Walcott, who had just returned home after completing a night's work with Camden city police, was shaken when a reporter related some of the testimony.

COMpletely UNAWARE
He said he was completely unaware of what had transpired in Washington Monday as the Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee reopened a probe of underworld interference in boxing.

When told that Truman Gibson, former president of the International Boxing Clubs of New York and Chicago, had said that a subcommittee investigator was correct in suggesting that Carbo told Felix Boechicchio, Walcott's manager, to negotiate terms and put Walcott in the match for $250,000, Jersey Joe replied:

"This is all news to me. I have never had any association with Carbo or with anyone like him. To my knowledge Felix had no association with Carbo or anyone else."

"I did the fighting and all I knew was that the matches were made. I'm sure there must be some misunderstanding."

Walcott, 46, the former world heavyweight champion who retired after Marciano knocked him out in the first round in the Chicago rematch, has been helping with youth activities and working with juvenile delinquents under a program of the Camden city police.

DAVIS CUPPERS CRITICIZED BY PRESS CORPS

PERTH, Australia (AP)—America's Davis Cup team ran against a new difficulty Monday—a scathing attack on the American press corps by the Australian press as "bad losers," "poor sports" and "bad actors."

"Why can't we just come down here and play tennis?" moaned Barry MacKay, No. 1 ace of the United States squad. "But no. Every move we make, everything we do becomes a national issue."

David Freed, the American captain, was taken severely to task by a Sydney columnist for failing to control his players' antics on the court.

ENTHUSIASTIC YOUNGSTERS

"I know the kids act up a little sometimes," Freed said, "we are working on getting them to calm down—if for nothing else, for their own sakes. But they are just enthusiastic youngsters who want to win. I can't fault them for getting mad at themselves. I don't want them to do anything that might be obnoxious."

Most of the American team members have been guilty of explosions and mild demonstrations during the tense Australian tennis campaign. This reached a head during the Victorian championships at Melbourne last week.

RANCOR INCREASED

MacKay had a bad day against Australian Wayne Reid in one of his early matches. He was fretty when he started and his rancor increased as the long, tough match progressed.

This has evoked boos and catcalls from the galleries and has resulted in criticism in the Australian newspapers.

The Americans held their first full scale workout today at the Royal King's Park Courts, where they meet Italy Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the Davis Cup interzone finals.

JOHNSTOWN IS GIVEN CLASS A FRANCHISE

Johnstown, Pa. (AP)—Allentown's Class A Eastern League baseball franchise has been shifted to Johnstown.

League President Tommy Richardson who made the announcement Monday said the club will be affiliated with the Boston Red Sox.

The owner of the team, Joe Buzas, said he will personally operate and supervise the Johnstown operation.

VERY ENTHUSED

Buzas said, "I'm very enthused over coming to Johnstown despite some opposition encountered from the league. I like the enthusiasm of everybody concerned, especially the mayor and the average fan and I firmly believe Johnstown is a great baseball town."

I said this before and I'll say it again that Johnstown is going to win the minor league attendance trophy given by the National Association of Minor Leagues."

The league said the team drew less than 50,000 persons in 1960 in Allentown where it played for the past three years.

ECONOMIC EFFECTS

Mayor George R. Walter of Johnstown said, "I am enthusiastic about the team coming here not only for good recreation but also for economic effects—payrolls, hotel and restaurant business and a traffic of outside money. The mills are not down enough to hurt attendance and I feel sure we can make it go."

Buzas also said that a survey made in York, another spot he had considered for the franchise, revealed that a baseball team would bring in approximately $125,000 a year in business there.

Johnstown was in the Eastern League before. The then New York Giants moved their Wilkes-Barre club here in the last half of 1955 and stayed until the end of the 1956 season. The Giants said that Point Stadium wasn't suitable and the team was pulled out.

HOLDS 12,000

The stadium, which holds 12,000, was remodeled for the Giants just before the team left.

Johnstown will join Reading, Lancaster, Williamsport, Binghamton and Springfield in the Eastern League.

Richardson, meanwhile, will step down as president of the league to take over as head of the Triple A International League.

PROTECTION PAYMENTS BY IBC DENIED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Boxing Club paid $180,000 to two influential persons to help line up fighters for its televised boxing shows, a former IBC president testified.

But Truman K. Gibson rejected a suggestion Monday that the payments were a payoff to guarantee peaceful promotion of the bouts. The payoff description was offered by John G. Bonomi, attorney conducting the hearings for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee.

Gibson faced further questioning today about activities of the IBCs of New York and Chicago, which went out of existence after the Supreme Court found that they monopolized championship bouts and violated antitrust laws.

SEEKING EVIDENCE

The subcommittee is seeking evidence of underworld activities in the prizefight business.

Gibson testified that companies associated with IBC had made payments totaling about $180,000 since 1953 to the wife of imprisoned gangster Frankie Carbo and to ageless Jack Kearns, boxing's irrefragable jack of all trades.

Gibson testified Kearns was paid to establish communications with boxing managers at large and stabilize the IBC program. Kearns headed the powerful International Boxing Managers Guild, and managers at the time were complaining they did not get enough money from fight telecasts.

GOOD WILL FACTOR

Gibson conceded that getting the guild's good will was a factor in the payments to Kearns, but he said Kearns earned the money by helping to line up matches for the Wednesday and Friday night fights.

He testified Kearns was known as a bitter enemy of Carbo, the underworld figure who operated for years behind the scenes in boxing.

Carbo is serving a two-year term for illegally managing and matchmaking under cover.

But Mrs. Carbo was paid between $40,000 and $45,000—under her former name of Viola Masters—because IBC had to deal with fight managers on Carbo's side of the ring, Gibson said.

PLAN SCHOOL FOR OLYMPICS

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP)—A plan was unfolded here today to make development of Olympic track and field material a year-round, every-year proposition.

"Regardless of what Mr. (Avery) Brundage would like . . . the Olympics have become an international struggle for national prestige," Hugh Gardner of the Santa Clara Youth Village, said in outlining the plan.

"It's about time the United States acted accordingly."

OPERATE EVERY YEAR

Gardner, athletic director of the Youth Village, which has become a Western track and field power in regular spring competition, said the plan will operate "not only in an Olympic year, but every year. Our objective now is Tokyo and the 1964 summer games."

The mechanics to make the SCVY plan a reality involve the following:

1. A committee of track and field coaches to study U.S. needs and what to do to resolve them.

OFFERED OPPORTUNITY

2. The cream of American track athletes already out of school will be offered an opportunity to train under expert coaching for free and compete in

CHURCHMEN FAVORABLE TO BIG UNION

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Leading churchmen Monday registered a somewhat bedazzled but firmly favorable reaction to a proposal for a wide reunion among American Protestants.

The plan, said Methodist Bishop John Wesley Lord, of Boston, "is as shocking as it is Christian."

"It overcomes with stark simplicity many of the problems that have perplexed the separate communions over the years."

4 BIG DENOMINATIONS

The plan, at the outset, would embrace the Episcopal, United Presbyterian, Methodist and United Church of Christ with other denominations subsequently invited to join.

The provocative formula was offered Sunday by a top-ranking Presbyterian, the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, of Philadelphia, shortly before the start of the triennial General Assembly of the National Council of Churches.

More than 3,000 representatives of 33 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 40 million members joined Sunday night in the stirring opening services.

KEEN INTEREST

Although not formally a part of their program, the proposal generated keen interest among delegates.

"It is the opening of a very significant move," said the Rev. Arthur C. Lichtenberger, of New York, presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church.

"Out of this might come a plan that would be acceptable to all the people involved," he added. "It is a good approach. I hope it will lead to a reunion of the church."

He, like others, however, emphasized it will take time, and careful examination.

20 MILLION MEMBERS

The plan is patterned on the precedent-shattering establishment of the United Church of South India in 1947, uniting Presbyterians, Methodists, Episcopalians and Congregationalists.

Dr. Blake proposed specifically a merger of these four groups in the United States. He included the United Church of Christ, a presently evolving union of Congregationalists and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Altogether, the combined body would have more than 20 million members. Other churches accepting the principles, Dr. Blake said, would also be invited to join, with the ultimate aim of reuniting "the whole of Christ's church."

He estimated it would take at least 10 years to effect the initial union, if the designated denominations act on it favorably. He suggested as a possible name: "The Reformed and Catholic Church in the United States of America."

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Dr. Philip Anderson Shaffer, 79, often called the "dean of American biochemistry," died Sunday. He was twice dean of the School of Medicine at Washington University in St. Louis.

Man Accused Of Murdering Kin

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—George M. Snyder, 36, an accountant, has been charged with slaying his brother-in-law with a .22 calibre target revolver.

Thomas J. Patterson, 26, half-brother of Snyder's wife, Maude, 34, was wounded fatally Saturday night. Police Chief Harold Graham of nearby Hatfield Twp. said Snyder told him the gun went off during an argument between Patterson and Mrs. Snyder.

Snyder said he wasn't taking part in the argument and pointed the gun at Patterson "to quiet him," believing it to be empty, Graham said. Six live cartridges were found in the gun by police.

Snyder is employed by a Philadelphia accounting firm. His wife is secretary to a Lansdale attorney. After Snyder was charged with homicide, he was taken to the county prison here.

Byrd Won't Support Bills He Opposes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) says he does not plan to support measures he doesn't approve.

In a letter Saturday, Byrd told Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) that he resents being told to support measures obnoxious to his constituents.

Clark is leading a fight to remove Democrats, who didn't support the party platform, from committee chairmanships. Byrd is the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

He has voiced objection to some parts of the Democrat's platform. His dissatisfaction is credited with helping Vice President Nixon carry Virginia in the presidential election.

NEW CUMBERLAND, Pa. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Wednesday for C. Vance Eater, Cumberland County register of wills.

Surviving are his widow, a daughter, three sisters and two brothers.

Burial will be in New Cumberland.

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Mary Gregory, 75, who toured the nation as a musical comedy singer under the name "Mary Quive" after the turn of the century, died Friday. She was born in Manchester, Ind. Her late husband, Harry G. Gregory, was business manager of the defunct Fresno Republican.

SAYS U.S. DAIRY INDUSTRY IS FACING CHANGE

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP)—The nation's dairy industry is midway in a major adjustment of plants, distribution and products.

That is the finding of the U. S. Agricultural Marketing Service in a study forecasting long-range prospects in the dairy industry. The adjustment is expected to have a broad effect on Pennsylvania's milk production, distribution and sales.

"As a result of more free and widespread movement of milk, prices of farm milk in different localities can be expected to become more closely aligned, differing chiefly by the costs needed to move the milk to market," the report declared.

WATCHING COSTS

The "costs" part of the AMS finding is what Pennsylvania dairymen at both the producer and retail level are watching.

In the not too distant future research on the inexpensive shipment or storage of milk, without any deterioration in quality, will come up with answers that could bring the huge midwestern milk production region into direct competition for the big eastern fluid milk markets that Pennsylvania and New York dairymen now have pretty much to themselves.

"Distribution," said the report, "which takes the largest portion of the margin between farm milk and the consumer, has changed. It will probably change more in the immediate future, at least in fluid milk, than will other functions of marketing."

EDGE OF AUTHORITY

Changes in recent years in milk marketing have seen food store chains assume a big edge of authority in price-making for fluid milk, even though this effect is tempered to a large degree by the fact that Pennsylvania's intrastate milk prices are state-regulated.

"Heavy dependence of milk distributors on food stores as outlets, the strong bargaining position of food chains buying large quantities of milk and heavy competition among stores for retail business will keep up pressure for lower milk prices," the AMS survey said.

Under the circumstances, the report indicated, fluid milk firms "have no choice but to organize both wholesale and retail distribution more efficiently."

In other words the industry in Pennsylvania is faced with the prospect of integrating its activities in order to function more effectively.

LESS FOR PRODUCER

The midwestern bottle of milk could well appear in Pennsylvania food stores in the not-too-distant future in the eyes of the AMS. Most of the milk production of the midwest goes into manufactured dairy products, which means the producers get a much lower price.

The top prices go for milk used for drinking.

As technology of various kinds—storage, shipment, sanitation—develops switches to fluid sales "will be particularly noticeable in the midwestern dairy manufacturing states," the AMS report said, adding:

"Increasingly such dairy products manufacturing areas will become sources of milk for bottling as sanitary regulations and

Dems Open Drive To Convert Voters

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania Democrats are starting early in their state-wide campaign to sign up more voter registrants for next year's election.

State Chairman John S. Rice said over the weekend the drive will get under way Thursday, the first day of the new registration period. The last day for registering is next March 27.

Rice selected Mrs. Grace M. Sloan of Clarion and Frank N. Hupp of Pittsburgh to head up the campaign again. They directed the drive for last month's general election, during which the Democrats took a numerical lead over Republicans for the first time in a century.

Mrs. Sloan, who will take office next spring as state treasurer, also is president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Democratic Women. Hupp is chairman of the State Securities Commission.

TOM EWELL HAS IDEA TO MAKE REAL COMEDY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A day or so after CBS' "Tom Ewell Show" made its debut in September, the star of the show drove to an out-of-town newspaper stand in Hollywood and bought copies of 64 newspapers from all over the United States.

Ewell hauled them home and proceeded to study the reviews of his show by a number of television reviewers and critics.

"It was interesting homework," related Ewell during a visit to New York. "I read bouquets about the show and I read some bitter condemnations. But after I'd gone through them all, two main things seemed evident—and the criticism included things I had been bothered about too. Then we went to work and tried to make changes in the show that might improve it."

REINFORCED BELIEF

Ewell said the reviews reinforced his own belief that it is difficult, if not impossible, to play force in a realistic situation, which the cast had been trying to do.

"The ideal family in TV consists of three children and a dog," he continued. "And when you get in that situation, it must be played realistically. But force is not realistic, it is not to be believed. And because it is artificial, the tempo is different and you defeat it if you try to play it in a realistic atmosphere."

Furthermore, said Ewell, the father he played was "too much of a boob."

WORKED ON FAULTS

"We have tried to work on that," he said. "Our idea is to make real comedy—not father's ineptness—the principal point. We can handle it in a number of ways—misunderstandings, for instance, and the way fate has of tripping up people."

These were the two big items that everybody connected with "The Tom Ewell Show" has been working to remedy, from the writers to the performers. Tom their application become more uniform."

The developments won't be overnight, but they are pending.

LEADERS NEAR TITLES IN NFL; 2 TILTS LEFT

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Houston Oilers and Los Angeles Chargers of the American Football League are within one game of clinching the Eastern and Western division titles today. Houston missed a chance to wrap up the Eastern championship Sunday, when the Dallas Texans pulled a 24-0 upset.

With two games remaining, Houston and Los Angeles have won eight and lost four games and can get no worse than a tie for the championship. Los Angeles came from behind with four touchdowns Sunday to subdue the Oakland Raiders 41-17.

New York, holding second place in the Eastern division, boasted a 6-6 record after the Titans edged the Denver Broncos 30-27. Dallas has a similar 6-6 won and lost record.

MEETING AT DALLAS

Playoff plans will be completed during the AFL meeting opening Monday at Dallas. The playoff will be during Christmas week.

In a fourth game Sunday, the Buffalo Bills broke a 14-14 halftime deadlock and went on to trim the Boston Patriots 38-14.

Dallas Coach Hank Stram had threatened $500 fines for poor play, and the Texans poured it on Houston for the Oilers' worst defeat of the season.

AVIS STARS

Second-string quarterback Hunter Enis, subbing for Cotton Davidson, scored the first two touchdowns on one-yard bursts, and Abner Haynes ran 13 yards for the other Dallas touchdown. Jack Spikes kicked a 22-yard field goal.

Oakland was leading Los Angeles 17-14 after three quarters, but the Chargers rushed across four touchdowns in the fourth period. Jack Kemp threw three touchdown passes, and scored two more on short runs in the fourth-period outburst. The scoring pass that put Los Angeles ahead was a 49-yard play from Kemp to Paul Lowe.

Al Dorow, New York quarterback, threw three touchdowns passes to Art Powell, but Bill Shockley's 15-yard field goal in the fourth period spelled the difference. New York led 21-0 before Gene Mingo scored for Denver.

With 13½ minutes to go, New York led 30-14, but Denver's Frank Tripucka wasn't through. The Broncos traveled 67 yards with Mingo taking an 11-yard pass from Tripucka. Then Sip Doyle intercepted a Dorow pass, and Tripucka passed seven yards to Lionel Taylor for the final TD.

Two fumbles and an intercepted pass ruined Boston's chances. Richie Lucas, former Penn State star, scored a touchdown and passed 30 yards to Dan Chamberlain for another during Buffalo's second-half spurt.

Boy Accidentally Kills His Sister

BELLMORE, N. Y. (AP)—A college student who accidentally shot and killed his 13-year-old sister was kept under sedation as the family doctor tried to ease his grief.

The student, John Maiorana, 18, a Hofstra College freshman, bolted in panic Friday after he blasted his sister, Juliana, with a shotgun in the den of their home. The youth had been hunting in nearby woods.

A search began and appeals were made urging the boy to return home. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Maiorana, feared he had killed himself from remorse. But after wandering for nearly 24 hours, the youth was located Saturday.

There will be a requiem Mass for Juliana Tuesday in St. Barnabas church, Bellmore.

LONG ILLNESS LEADS WAY TO NEW VALUES

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—You rarely find people who are grateful for a long illness.

Actress Joan Fontaine is. She thinks a long illness is the best way to cure anyone with a success fetish—and teach him true values. "My illness led me to grow up at last," she said. "It was my diploma to life."

Miss Fontaine is fully recovered now from a two-year bout with ailments ranging from energy-draining mononucleosis to hepatitis and undulant fever.

RADIATED VITALITY

Looking as lovely as a yellow primrose, the blonde film star radiated health and a hazel-eyed vitality as we lunched in the old-fashioned elegance of the Edvardian Room at the Plaza. The eyes of nearby lady diners showed envy of her fresh charm.

"I hate to talk like a pollyanna about a thing that can be as devastating as illness," said Joan, "but it's the way I really feel."

"Everyone should be so lucky—to have a pause in your life for an appraisal, and to see clearly for the first time what life really has to offer."

"LIKE BEING BORN"

"It's a great, great thing. All the minor worries people fret about, the problems that haunt most of us—success, financial security, personal popularity, growing older—all become so terribly unimportant."

"When the time comes again when you can dress yourself, when you can get up and walk about supported once more by your own backbone—well, it's like being born again. But better."

"I wish my illness could have happened to me when I was 12. I wasted so much of my life."

"I accomplished a lot, but I didn't enjoy it."

WANTS TO "LIVE"

Miss Fontaine has made 45 films, and thrice was nominated for academy awards. She won an Oscar in 1941 for her performance in "Suspicion." She had three husbands.

But she feels now that, like many stars, she let herself be trapped on the treadmill of Hollywood success, a treadmill of many lost values.

"I spent too many years in smog, tinsel and the second rate," said Joan. "I lived only to work. Now I want primarily to live."

Joan acts as hostess on the CBS-TV monthly show, "The Breck Family Classics," and is looking for a Broadway role. But she said she never again means to let the success treadmill be her main goal.

MORE PHILOSOPHY

"I am in a fortunate position," she remarked. "I have saved my pennies. I am not afraid of the bill collector, or the wolf at the door."

"It is lovely to accomplish something in life. It is a delicious feeling."

"But the trick is not to keep wanting more. If you do, you are never satisfied."

"To be content with what you are . . . to be satisfied to like yourself . . . not to want to scrap it all and try to be somebody else . . . that is the victory of living."

"We all need to go into a decompression chamber. We are all so ambitious to succeed—and yet we destroy ourselves."

Her recovery has given Joan a new appreciation of the role of energy in a healthy outlook.

Most Pentagon Leaders Oppose Symington Plan

By C. YATES MCDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most of the present Pentagon leaders already are on record opposing another defense reorganization as far-reaching as that recommended to President-elect John F. Kennedy.

The essence of their plea: give the 1958 organization plan a chance to work before setting off on still another shakeup. That law, passed after the Soviet Union orbited its first satellite, gave added powers to the secretary of defense and consolidated research and development, among other things.

The new military blueprint, drawn up by a committee headed by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) was received in official silence at the Defense Department after it was made public Monday at Palm Beach, Fla.

AF IS SILENT

But the military chiefs of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, and the defense secretary himself, all spoke out vigorously before the event in anticipation of just such a set of sweeping proposals.

Only the Air Force, incubating ground for most of the ideas contained in the Symington group study, has remained silent in recent months.

The plan given to President-elect Kennedy would eliminate the separate departments of the Army, Navy and Air Force together with their secretaries, undersecretaries and assistants. It would leave the military services with their names, uniforms and the responsibility of internal housekeeping.

WOULD ABOLISH BRASS

The Symington group recommendations would abolish the Joint Chiefs of Staff and substitute a single chairman who would deal directly and exclusively with the defense secretary and through him with the president.

This super-chief would head a combined planning staff of officers dissociated as much as possible from the services of their upbringing. This chief would send orders direct to commanders of three functional commands—strategic, tactical and defense.

The existing major commands, such as the Navy-headed Pacific and Atlantic headquarters and the Strategic Air Command of the Air Force, would be abolished. The new functional commands would absorb whatever people or weapons were best suited for the assigned tasks without regard to uniforms, traditions or historic organization.

The chairman also would preside over an advisory council of retired officers or of men who had divorced themselves from separate service ambitions.

Under the Symington group plan, the Defense Department would consist of a secretary and a deputy secretary, as it is now. But all of the assistant secretaries of defense would be eliminated. To do their work, there would be two undersecretaries, one for administration and the other in charge of all weapons systems. There would also be three directorates: research and engineering, procurement and production.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The boycott of an integrated elementary school weakened a bit more today with 15 to 17 white pupils turning out for classes.

They showed up at the William Frantz School where one Negro girl is enrolled in the first grade. The previous high white attendance, since the school was integrated by federal court order, was the 10 who went to classes Friday. There are 500 enrolled.

COST OF XMAS CHARACTERS—BY HAL BOYLE

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Deck the desks with boughs of holly, and put a plastic evergreen tree on the filing cabinet.

Santa is on his way to visit the business world.

Christmas comes but once a year. This is probably just right for the average office or factory. If it came more often, many a firm might find it hard to survive.

For the yuletide spirit does strange things to the usual business routine, which ordinarily doesn't embrace such problems as where to hang the mistletoe. It also does strange things to the hired hands who people the realm of the typewriter and dictating machine.

Here are a few of the cast of Christmas characters you'll probably find in your own office:

THE SENIOR VEEP

The senior vice president—for years he never has been known to speak to anyone except the president and the chairman of the board. But each Christmas he meticulously sends every employee a greeting card—signed in his name by his secretary. If you thank him in person for the card, he looks at you as if you had just landed from Mars.

The joyful imbibor—All morning he nips from bottled spirits hidden in his locker. He spends his afternoons sitting at his desk humming seasonal carols all alone. On Jan. 2nd, he sets out to look for a new job.

The tightwad Romeo—during most of the year he takes turns trying to romance every stenographer in the office. The day after Thanksgiving he starts picking quarrels with each of them—so the only girl he'll have to buy a Christmas present for is his mother.

THE "ORGANIZER"

The all-for-one organizer—He has his secretary shop for his presents, then gets the supply room to wrap and address them, the mail room to stamp them free, and the office boy to carry them to the post office. His theory is that at Christmas the organization should work for the organization man.

The do-unto-others realist—If you sent him a card last year, he erases your signature, signs his own name and mails it back to you this year, in an office envelope.

The self-protecting receptionist—She doesn't take any chances of being overlooked by Santa. On Dec. 1 she hangs a long stocking from the front of her desk. This is a gentle hint to salesmen that if they want to get in to see the purchasing agent they'd better drop a little token of crisp folding green into the kitty.

SENTIMENTAL ZEALOT

The sentimental zealot—He duns everybody in the place for contributions to a dozen private charities. "If we want to save Africa, why not start now by send-

Wilson, Sweeney Lead AHL Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Larry Wilson of Buffalo and Bill Sweeney of Springfield have carried their duel through another week in the American Hockey League scoring race, with Wilson still a point ahead.

Each scored three points last week. That gave Wilson 40 points, on 12 goals and a league-leading 28 assists, to Sweeney's 39, on 15 goals and 24 assists.

Harry Pidhirny and Jimmy Anderson of Springfield and Dick Gamble of Buffalo share the goal-scoring lead, each with 16. That's in keeping with the Springfield-Buffalo monopoly in scoring, which shows Indian and Bison players in the top five places.

Marcell Paille of Springfield, despite allowing 17 goals in three games last week, still is the leading goalie, with a 2.58 goals-against average and five shutouts.

ing toys to Hottentots," he pleads. He never puts in any of his own dough, but becomes a philanthropist on your money.

The bon vivant—"Let's don't have the office Christmas party on Friday," he urges. "Let's start on Monday—and keep it going all week."

The thrifty boss—He sends every employee a letter of appreciation for his work, and a 10-cent ball point pen with the firm's name on it. Privately he passes the word around that if business improves everyone can look for "a little bigger token next Christmas." By this he means they can expect a longer letter—and a 25-cent pen.

Look around your own office. Do you recognize any of these Christmas characters—including maybe yourself?

SANTA and the BOY FISH by Lucrece Hudgins Beale

SYNOPSIS: Michael is the son of a poor fisherman. He loves the sea. His greatest wish is to be able to go beneath its surface and examine the wonderful things that are there. Then, one day, he finds a diving mask and a pair of flippers. He puts them on and plunges into the water.

Chapter Two UNDER THE SEAS

Michael put his face down in the ocean and opened his eyes. The diving mask left an air space between his eyes and the sea so that he could see almost as well under water as above.

He wiggled the flippers on his feet. They looked like huge frog feet waving under his chin. He held his hand in front of his face. It was a giant's hand and seemed not to belong to Michael at all.

He pulled his head from the water and took a great lungful of air. Then he gave a mighty kick with the flippers and shot down into the silent, secret world below.

He cried out with pleasure at what he saw but as soon as he opened his mouth he choked on a swallow of water and had to return to the surface for more air. This time he was careful to keep his mouth closed as he glided back down a path of reflected light to the ocean floor.

He felt he was flying, not swimming, in a sea of changing colors. The water shimmered with reds and blues and yellows. Gaudy forests of seaweed danced beneath him. Strange and wonderfully colored fish darted about. They did not seem to mind having Michael there at all. To them he was just another fish.

Michael felt he was flying in the sea.

A fat creature with popping eyes and a mouth as wide as its plump body swam lazily up and stared curiously into Michael's mask. Michael reached out to touch it but to his surprise the pop-eyed fish was out of his reach. Through the mask everything looked not only larger but closer than it really was.

Again and again he swam back into the wonderful world he had found until finally the sun began to go down and the water grew cold and it was time to go. Carefully he carried the mask and flippers back to the cliff and hid them under a rock. Then he raced home.

"Mother! Father!" he cried, bursting into the house. "I have been at the bottom of the sea! Only wait until I tell you the things I have seen!"

Mizell Signs '61 Pirate Contract

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Southpaw pitcher Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell has become the first player to sign his 1961 contract with the World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates.

Mizell, who won 14 games, lost 8 and posted a 3.50 earned run average last year, signed Saturday for a reported $25,000, a slight increase over the 1960 season.

"It's the best contract I've ever signed," the hurler commented.

Pirate Gen. Mgr. Joe L. Brown said the transaction didn't take more than two minutes.

"I mentioned the salary and Mizell said 'hand me your pen,'" Brown said.

"Oh, Michael," said his mother. "You're dreaming wild dreams again!"

"Not dreams, mother! It's true. I've spent the whole day at the bottom of the sea and I've—"

"Michael," interrupted his father sternly, "you cannot swim to the bottom of the sea so let's hear no more about it."

"Could I do it with a mask and flippers?" asked Michael.

"I suppose so," said the father. "But where could one get such things?"

"I found them on the cliff! I've left them there hidden under some rocks!"

"If it's a story you're telling," said the father, "I've warned you, Michael, I'll—"

"Come, then, and I'll show you!" cried Michael, and, dancing with excitement, he led his mother and father back to the cliff and to the rock where he'd hidden his find.

But when he lifted the rock, the treasure was gone!

SEE SIGNS OF KHRUSHCHEV VICTORY AT RED MEETING

By STANLEY JOHNSON
MOSCOW (AP) — The world Communist movement publicly closed ranks today to support Soviet Premier Khrushchev's thesis that communism can triumph without nuclear war. Khrushchev thus won a victory at last month's Communist summit meeting.

Communist China joined 80 other Communist parties in issuing a manifesto that seemed to make clear Khrushchev and his line of peaceful coexistence retain control of world communism's direction—at least for the present.

"War is not fatally inevitable. The Communist parties regard the fight for peace as their prime task," said a declaration spread across 3 1/2 pages in Pravda.

21-DAY FIGHT

This is what Khrushchev has insisted on since the 20th Soviet Communist party congress in 1956 which has won later endorsements from the Communist movement.

But this time he won a stamp of approval only after an embattled Communist summit meeting that opened in the Kremlin Nov. 9—the day after the U.S. elections—and continued for 21 days. The agreement that emerged, in public at least, took 20,000 words. But no one could tell how permanent was the ink in which it was written.

Communist China has held that war with the capitalist world is inevitable. This was the major difference with the Kremlin in the larger question of how the Communists should advance their cause—by a belligerent posture

Kennedy And Wife Look For Retreat

WASHINGTON (AP)—President elect John F. Kennedy and his wife are looking for a house in Virginia as a weekend retreat from the White House next year. "I think it's good for young children to get out of the governmental atmosphere," Kennedy said Monday, explaining the reason for the house hunt.

The Kennedys have a 3-year-old daughter and a son who will be two weeks old Friday.

Kennedy said no papers had been signed. He did not mention the name of any house under consideration, but said he planned to lease one for only a year.

Over 88 Million Paid To Veterans

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania paid out $88,070,245 in bonus payments to Korean War veterans during the first full year of the program, says Maj. Gen. A. J. Drexel Biddle, state adjutant general.

Biddle said Monday that 326,418 Korean veterans had received the bonus payments as of Nov. 28. Another 25,000 are expected to be paid before the Dec. 31, 1963, deadline, he added.

toward the West and encouragement of violent revolution, or by negotiation with the capitalists while communism takes over gradually.

(Newspapers in London saw the manifesto as a Communist go-ahead for Khrushchev to pursue new negotiations with the West after the failure of the May summit meeting.)

Communism, said the manifesto is bound to win in peace "by the force of its example."

It warned that "war is a constant companion of capitalism" but said "real forces have appeared that are capable of foiling its plans of aggression."

797 CHICAGO VOTES MISSING

CHICAGO (AP) — The recheck of Cook County votes went into its second week today with Republicans showing small gains and everybody at a loss to explain what happened to some missing ballots.

Officials have announced that, with a little more than one third of 906 paper ballot precincts rechecked, Richard M. Nixon has made a net gain of 270 votes.

Republican Nixon lost Illinois' 27 electoral votes to President-elect John F. Kennedy by 8,849 votes in the Nov. 8 election.

When recheck teams opened two ballot boxes Monday, they found nothing in them but some unused ballots. The ballots marked by the voters were missing.

Tally sheets recorded the totals this way:

For the 86th Precinct of the 9th Ward: Kennedy 369, Nixon 77.

For the 56th Precinct of the 10th Ward: Kennedy 259, Nixon 92.

Ralph Berkowitz, attorney for the GOP, demanded that the totals be removed from the canvass list. That would cost Kennedy 628 votes and Nixon 169.

However, the recheck is part of a so called discovery procedure. No changes will be made in tallies unless or until a court orders a full recount.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Five Formosan fishermen were rescued today after 72 days of aimless drifting in a junk blown out into the South China Sea by a typhoon. A crewman, 17, died 12 days ago when food and water ran out.
